

DAILY PLANET

ALL THE NEWS THAT FITS

Thursday, Oct. 5

2000

Combined Federal Campaign kicks off Thursday in Morris

Marshall's Combined Federal Campaign kicks off at 9 a.m. Thursday in Morris Auditorium. Speakers include Liz Hurley and Lee Marshall from WAFF TV-48 News. The campaign continues through Nov. 17. Complete information about CFC activities is on the Web at: <http://cfc2000.msfc.nasa.gov>

Marshall's 40th anniversary on Centerwide TV at 11 a.m., 1 p.m. and 3 p.m. Thursday

Marshall Institute
sneak preview,
11 a.m. Friday,
Bldg. 4200, room
G-13

Shuttle mission STS-92 set to launch Thursday

Space Shuttle Discovery is set to launch at 8:38 p.m. CDT Thursday. STS-92 is NASA's 100th Space Shuttle launch. During the 11-day mission, astronauts will continue construction of the International Space Station by attaching the Z1 Truss — the backbone of the Space Station — and the Pressurized Mating Adapter 3, which will facilitate docking during future missions.

NASA Fellowship Forum set Thursday at Oakwood College

The 2001 NASA Administrator's Fellowship Forum will be at 3 p.m. Thursday in the Cooper Science Complex, room 600, at Oakwood College in Huntsville. Six fellowships are available to NASA career employees. For more information and to register, call Chanel Vaughan at 544-3740 or send e-mail to: chanel.vaughan@msfc.nasa.gov

Register for ST Day
Oct. 11-12 online
through Friday